Prepared March 13, 2013

(5536) (7) At Little Goose Lock and Dam. The waters restricted to all vessels, except Government vessels, are described as all waters commencing at the upstream of the navigation lock guidewall and running in a direction of  $60^{\circ}37'$  true for a distance of 676 yards; thence  $345^{\circ}26'$  true for a distance of 494 yards; thence  $262^{\circ}37'47''$  true to the dam embankment shoreline. The downstream limits commence 512 yards downstream and at right angles to the axis of the dam of the south shore; thence parallel to the axis of the dam to the north shore. Signs designate the restricted areas.

SNAKE RIVER - where the river coincides with the boundary between Washington and Idaho, the license of either state is valid. Anglers must comply with the laws of the state issuing the license. An angler licensed only in Idaho may not fish on the Washington shore or in Washington sloughs or tributaries. An angler fishing is restricted to one daily limit even if licensed by both states.

Snake River Confluence Protection Area - waters of the Columbia River from the railroad bridge between Burbank and Kennewick upstream approximately 2.1 miles to the first powerline crossing upstream of the navigation light on the point of Sacajewea State Park: Daily limits, seasons, size restrictions, and gear restrictions are the same as those in the adjacent area of the Snake River

CLOSED WATERS - within 400' of the base of any dam; within a 400' radius around the fish ladder entrance at Lyons Ferry Hatchery; within a 200' radius upstream of the fish ladder exit above Lower Granite Dam; and within an area 1,200' downstream from the base of the west lock gate at Little Goose Dam on the south bank of the Snake River and 100' out into the river from said river bank.
