Name: Cynthia Muse
Organization: Columbia Basin Development League
Address: 260 Ridgeview
Pasco, WA 99301

My name is Cynthia Muse

I'm a co-owner and co-managed of a Columbia Basin family farm.

Hagit stood in an irrigation ditch in 1955 and watched as the first drop of water flowed to the already dry, hot, barren, wind blown sand. In my life-times I've watched a slow evolution of a spectacular artificial ecosystem that is in balance with nature as well as ~~with~~<sup>the greater</sup> _____ of people.

I've watched useless sand dunes turn to green succulent crops. I've seen a rural community develop, farms that rural community, one recreational reservoir, water ways for boat traffic, waste ways teaming with wildlife and power grids to serve clean energy for commercial, industrial, and residential needs of the Pacific Northwest. I've seen lush growth along waterways and equalized planting planes to the safety of city populations to the west.

To upset this balance that we all use and enjoy is a crime!
